Aloha Saint Louis School Parents and Guardians,

As I walk through the hallways of Bertram Hall, Newell Hall and the Clarence T.C. Ching Learning Center, I can see our students gearing up for semester finals coming up soon and other exciting activities occurring on campus during the holiday season that require many hours of practice and study. It is so wonderful to see the smiles on our students’ faces knowing that they have much to do and prepare for.

Below you will see pictures of our students having fun, serving others, and sharing their talents. What a great way to celebrate God’s love for us. Have a great week!

Mr. Shimabuku directs another fine performance during our Winter Band Concert in Mamiya Theater.
A closer look at our students sharing their talents on stage.

At the Winter Band Concert, these two gentlemen did a fine job on stage as emcees. They prepared skits, jokes, and more for the attentive crowd. For me in particular, I have the pleasure of seeing these young men off stage on a daily basis in school and I can truly say that they both exemplify what it means to be Saint Louis Men both on and off stage.
