Aloha Saint Louis School Parents and Guardians,

Instilling in our students the desire to serve others, work for justice and bring peace to the world is just one of many reasons being a part of a Marianist school like Saint Louis School is so special. This spirit of giving and serving others becomes so visibly apparent during the holiday season. The pictures I am sharing with you in this week’s newsletter are just a few examples of this.

On behalf of everyone here at Saint Louis School, we wish you the very best this holiday season!

Memor et Fidelis,

Dr. Glenn Medeiros
Saint Louis School
Head of School

Each morning our students collect donations from parents dropping off their sons at Saint Louis School to assist the Salvation Army in their work to help those in our community. These students will be continuing their work in this fashion in Hawaii Kai as one of the shopping centers there this weekend. Thank you to our PTO for organizing this!

Kupuna (Grandparents) Day!

More from Kupuna Day!

One of our Middle School students leads us in prayer at the Mystical Rose Chapel.

An alumnus of Saint Louis School visited our Civil Air Patrol cadets to share his experience as a fighter pilot in the Air Force.
Father Allen speaks to our Middle School students about the Immaculate Conception.

Our Crusaders did a fine job of teaching our Japanese visitors from Japan how to perform a dance from the Philippines.
One of our own students communicates with our Japanese visitors in their native language.

In this picture, seniors support their classmates and their families at a memorial prayer service led by Father Pat. Unfortunately, the fathers of two of our students in the senior class recently passed away. It was beautiful to see how our students supported one another.
