Aloha Saint Louis School Parents and Guardians,

We hope that each of you had a beautiful Christmas holiday with family and friends. For administrators, several of those days were spent on campus working to prepare for the next semester. In addition to administrative tasks, we were pleasantly surprised to see Saint Louis School students on campus working together to take good care of it with the use of power washers and more. Our facilities team also began clearing the first floor of Newell Hall to begin renovating it for the creation of our elementary school starting in August of 2016. Finally, Bertram Hall itself was completely covered as we fumigated it to properly maintain our historic building built in 1926.

Below you will find pictures of an assembly our students experienced on Wednesday. During this celebration, we applauded the success of one of our very own while also watching a sensational juggler who spoke of the power of following our hearts. Of course, from our very popular wrestling team and more, I hope that you will enjoy viewing these pictures.

Memor et Fidelis,

Dr. Glenn Medeiros
Saint Louis School
Head of School

Here we celebrated the success of one of our very own athletes who won a very prestigious athletic award given to only one football player in Hawaii each year. The trophy he is holding will be displayed in our administrative office in Bertram Hall for one year.
Behind every special event you will often find the unsung heroes – our technicians.

Walking through Bertram Hall I bumped into our students working on a project outside the four walls of their classroom as their teacher facilitated their learning.
Look closely and you will see that these are knives this performer is juggling. Suspended in the air in addition to those knives is an apple he bit into while juggling. You could hear a pin drop in McCabe Gym as he executed this performance perfectly.

Thanks to a fantastic team of wrestling coaches, many of our students are joining our wrestling team.
After the assembly, our Middle School Director took some time to speak to our Middle School students about the importance of making good choices.

A few of our students volunteered during the assembly to join in on a performance.
We’ve had several students transfer from other private schools over the Christmas Break to Saint Louis School making their dreams to become a Crusader a reality. Here is one of those new students taking his yearbook picture.

It is the joy in the faces of our young men that inspires each and every person at Saint Louis School to provide the best possible education we can for them. As our Admissions Director always says, “It’s a great day to be a Crusader!”
