Aloha Saint Louis School Parents and Guardians,

At Marianist, Catholic schools like Saint Louis School, striving for service, justice and peace in the world is something all students are challenged to do. This week in particular was special because we celebrated both Catholic Schools Week and Blessed Chaminade Service Day by serving others in our community as seen in the pictures below. In addition, our students achieved championship status in soccer, swimming, and more.

Winning is far from everything at Saint Louis School, but doing so often indicates that the quality of instruction being given is strong and that collaboration exists between team members to create a united front that can withstand any challenge. Congratulations to our coaches, parents, and students for their accomplishments and for their dedication in serving others.

Memor et Fidelis,

Glenn Medeiros, Ed.D.

Head of School

Our math team finished in 3rd place at a recent math contest involving Hawaii's schools and we are very proud of them.
Our soccer team won the ILH Division II championship this past week. We wish them the best of luck in the playoffs.

Here you see our students as they take part in a quiz game show on television.
On Blessed Chaminade day, Crusaders worked at several different locations across Oahu serving our community.

Tua continues to collect awards and we will keep following and supporting him now that he is a student at the University of Alabama.
Baseball is here once again at Saint Louis School and we wish our baseball players the best of luck.

Father Marty Solma, leader of the Marianist order, visited Saint Louis School from Saint Louis, Missouri to see our new elementary school. In this picture, he shared with our keiki Crusaders that he will be traveling to Africa soon to visit another Marianist school there. Our hope is to one day have our elementary school students communicate with those students in Africa as part of a video conference in our Tseu Presidential Suite. Stay tuned for that and more!
